

From the mail bag: “I was so upset when I read your article from Dating Disservice (Dec. 22, 2008). Please let her know there is a dating agency out there that cares; in fact, we’re willing to sign this woman up for free. ... We do it the old-fashioned way: No online or random computer matches, just safe and smart dating. ... We are well known in the community and do background and criminal checks on all our clients.
